

WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUG. 19, 1896.

IT LOOKS now as if the people of this country have taken the political bit in their mouths and are going along their own way, irrespective even of their own managers, and that they will elect their Presidential candidate and defeat that of the plutocrats without either money or management, and simply by the force of numbers, and against the astutest strategy of Mr. Hanna and the untold millions of money that have been placed at his disposal by the protected manufacturers and those who would be subject to an income tax. Of course millions of their votes will be bought, but, as under the new ballot system, they can sell their votes and still cast them in accordance with their natural class sympathy, it is almost im possible that a majority of them can be induced to vote against what they believe to be their own interests.

INTELLIGENCE from the variouwatering places, now that their seasons are drawing to a close, continues to the same effect as it was at the commencement thereof-that their guests havnot been many and their profits not been large, and that most of the former have been women. To the average man, money is entirely too scarce nov to enable him to go summering; hi wife and daughters must go "for theihealth," but he must stay at home and try to make and save enough to carrthem through the unknown troubles of the coming winter. He now seizes of the evanescent fifty-three cent dollawith the avidity that a hungry duck manifests in snatching the fleeing June

MANY MANUFACTURING establish ments in the North are suspending operations entirely or working on short hours, the assigned reason being the fear of the injurious effect of the free coinage of silver. As the Congress that could pass a free silver bill will not as semble for : early 16 months, why they should be taking such an early grasp upon time's forelock is not readily perceived. It is shrewdly suspected that the protective tariff is not as profitable to the establishments referred to as it passed through the city yesterday en used to be, and also, that their proprietors have-for a valuable consideration | money democratic ticket, and devote -been induced to help to defeat free bimself entirely to fighting the free sil silver by playing tricks upon the fears of their discharged employees.

NOBODY FAMILIAR with the character of Mr. Bryan ever believed the bolters' story to the effect that he was once in the employ of the silver mine owners, though, as a lawyer, why he shouldn't have been, without the slighte-t blemish on his reputation no reason able man can tell. But now that he comes out and says, "I have never at any time or under any circumstances been in the employ of any mine owners, individually or collectively, directly or indirectly, nor bave I been in the euploy of, or paid by, any bimetallic league or association," it is hoped that his maligners may have manliness enough to acknowledge their "mistake."

MR McKINLEY, in a speech he made to some negroes who called upon him yesterday, addressed them as "gentlemen" and told them he was glad to hear that now, as always, they would vote the republican ticket, as they should do, because Abraham Lincoln had set them tree and made them the civil and political equals of the white man. And yetQuartermasterMcKinley knows well enough that so far as Mr. Lincoln was concerned, the negroes would be slaves wow, if the South had been willing to can committee to conduct the republistop fighting and go back of her own accord into the Union.

MR. BOURKE COCKRAN, who made what reputation he has by opposing Mr. Cleveland and a high tariff, delivered z speech in New York last night, as the psid agent of the goldites, in favor of paid agent of the goldites, in favor of been satisfactorily settled, and that Mr. Cleveland's anti-silver views and of Col. Mosby's letter in reply to Judge the election to the Presidency of the putative author of the highest protective tariff bill ever formulated. The more that is known of politics, the more apparent becomes the wisdom of ex-Mayor Strauss's famous remark upon that subject.

THE same names appear in the list of prominent democrats at the goldite meeting in New York last night that used to be seen in the newspapers of that city as present at the anti-snap pers and mugwumps there, when by a anion with the republicans they succ eded in defeating both the city and State democratic tickets. It is hardly large, Congressman Otey, it is said, possible they will be as successful th's year, as their game has been detected.

WHILE Senator Gray, of Delaware, was swelling the crowd at the bolters' meeting in New York yesterday, the democratic convention of his own State was passing a resolution unanimously endorsing Bryan and Sewall-the candidates of the national democratic party. Mr. Gray consorts with the plutocrats; his party with those who are opposed to trusts, combines, monopolies and other favored interests.

WHEN THE Chinese, in their opposition to the hypocritical missionaries who defame and malign them, cry "China for the Chinese," there are people in this country who say they should be stifled, though the same people say the cry here of "America for America still wore the uniform and hats cans" is all right and should be heeded. caus" is all right and should be heeded.

No MATTER how great a disappointment Mr. Bryan's speech in New York may have been, in an oratorical point of view, it certainly was not a greater one other hat,' was my reply. The Consultant hat of Mr. Cockran's in the same at once took off his own hat and placed city last night, that is, to people who didn't hear, but who read both those

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette,] WASHINGTON, August 19

Unless the wishes of Chairman But ler and the members of the executive committee are set aside, Mr. Watson, populist candidate for the Vice Presidency, will not be officially notified of his nomination for that place. Chairman Butler last night, while declining to make any specific statements on the subject, said that a failure to notify would not be unusual, for the reason that the populists had never yet notified their candidates. Now that the com mittee has decided upon Washington as the headquarters, Chairman Butler has accepted the invitation of Chairman Faulkner, of the democratic congres sional committee, to use a portion of the Wormley Hotel, now occupied by the democratic congressional committee. and the impression is that there will be more or less of unity of action by the democrats and populists. Chairman Butler denied that any pooling arrangem at for the circulation of literature had been or would be arranged between the democrats and populists, but admitted that they would work together in the utmost harmony. "You cannot send out too much literature in a cam paign like this," said he, "for the people are crying for light and knowledge upon the one question of finance. The two committees will not interfere, for while we may send out largely the same class of material, it will reach different voters even in the same town." It wis decided by the committee last night that there should be one head for the populist executive committee and the congressional committee, and Senator Butler will, therefore, preside over all the work. The labors of the respective committees will, however, be divided and will continue along the lines already established. The democratic committee has been notified by telegraph by Mr. Bryan that he had changed his arrangements so as to ad-

At one point in his speech, where he was particularly severe on populists and populism, in which category he included Mr. Bryan, a number of hisses were heard, but these were quickly drowned out by the countercheers of the majority of the auditors. Mr. Belmont concluded his remarks at 8:45 and then introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. W. Bourke Cockran. The vast auditorium was imme diately in an uproar and the ovation o the night was tendered the ex-Congressman. Mr. Cockran said the issue is one of common honesty and the repudiation of public and private obligations; the Chicago platform and Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance leveled against the foundation of social order, and that democratic voters will not be seduced from the path of honesty. The populistic planks in the platform adopted at Chicago were attacked The proposition to pack the United States Supreme Court was condemned; money and property were defined, and Mr. Cockran told why the workingman would get the worst of it if the price of commodities advanced also told how a change in the standard of value enables men to cheat their creditors.
